Putting all other things and reasons aside, bombing Syria could lead a huge increase in number of refugees who would try to get to Europe and America. May be it would be better for America if our government concentrates on securing on borders and stops spending so much money on military operations.

Some of our enemies are way closer than Syria, so we need a wall to keep them out! This should be a priority, not making refugee camps in Mexico bigger and bigger by bombing Syria.

BOMBING SYRIA HAS CREATED A HUGE REFUGEE CRISIS ONCE BEFORE

IS THIS WHAT WE NEED? ANOTHER REFUGEE WAVE?
